DELAWARE VALLEY JOINT
High School
MILFORD, PENNSYLVANIA
"1963"

The staff of THE DELAWARE presents this 1963 volume with pride. We hope you will find pleasure in leafing through these pages both now and in the years to come.

For the second year our staff members, selected from grades seven to twelve, have functioned as a club. We have endeavored to record for you those familiar activities and classroom scenes which will help you recall the pleasant days of your high school career.

We extend to the faculty our thanks for their cooperation in preparing this book and to the loyal businessmen our appreciation for their financial support.

MR. ALBERT F. HEBERLIG

We are proud to dedicate the 1963 "DELAWARE" to a teacher who has been in our school system for more than thirty years. Mr. Heberlig began his teaching career in Matamoras following his graduation from Shippensburg State College in 1929.

His continued service to this school system has made our academic mathematics department one of the best in the state.

For many years, Mr. Heberlig has sponsored the Conservation Club. This service club has greatly improved our school grounds through clearing, pest control, and replanting.

As Student Council advisor, Mr. Heberlig has contributed another immeasurable service to our school. Many Student Councils have gratefully known his guidance. The students managed the Council, and yet Mr. Heberlig was always there to help and advise. Thank you, Mr. Heberlig.

TO THE CLASS OF 1963:

It is our hope that you have acquired the basic tools of learning such as skill in reading, writing, speaking and obtaining information from available reference materials. A general understanding of the development of our culture is a tool that should help in evaluating and interpreting the problems of your time. It should be understood that you have not acquired a sufficient quantity of knowledge to meet your needs for a lifetime. However, with these tools and sufficient perseverance you can constantly add to your fund of knowledge that information which will be most useful to you. The tools of learning are similar to common tools in that they have no intrinsic value; their great benefit is released only when properly used.

Of equal importance to the acquisition of knowledge is the ability to make proper social adjustments. Research has proved that over 90% of employees who were fired lost their jobs not because of the lack of ability to do the necessary work but because of the lack of ability to get along with their fellow workers. They failed in the area of human relations despite adequate vocational skills.

You are approaching a commencement - a beginning. You now have sufficient maturity and skills to make a searching analysis of yourself. What should be your relationship and attitude toward your Creator, friends and fellow citizens, parents, and employer or prospective employer? What are your responsibilities to family, community, and nation? These are decisions that will be made. I hope and pray that you won't drift into them but rather will use all the skills and resources at your command to earnestly weigh all the evidence and then courageously make your decisions.

I wish to extend to all of our seniors my very best wishes for happiness and success in your chosen fields. "Seek and Ye shall find" is not empty or old-fashioned advice: I recommend it to you.

Leland Cramer
Supervising Principal

Administration

TO THE CLASS OF 1963:

Now you are poised like a missile about to be launched into space. In a short time each of you will be probing out into the world to follow your individual way through life. This way will probably turn through many phases as you go along. At one time the breaks will be with you and, at another, the going will be difficult.

The way in which you ride out the good times and the bad will be dependent upon how much you are willing to give of yourself to any endeavor. If you sit at home and wait for opportunity to come to you, it may be a long time before it arrives.

Generally, you will create your own good fortune through your work and efforts. Nontheless, don't forget the pat on the back or the words of thankfulness to those who help you along the way. It will be these helping hands that will carry you up the ladder of success.

Like any space probing missile, you will be seeing and meeting many new things as you cruise along through life. As you experience these new problems, you will form new ideas and philosophies. Be alert to change, and courageous enough to explore these new possibilities; above all remain flexible.

May you enjoy God's blessing on your path through life.

Cafeteria Staff

Left: Mrs. Coykendall, Mrs. Aber, Mrs. Kleinstuber, Mrs. Cleveland. Absent: Mrs. Cox, Mrs. White.

Under the capable supervision of Mrs. Madelyn Cox, the cafeteria staff prepares a well-balanced meal each day for an average of two hundred seventy-five students and teachers at a student cost of thirty cents.

Left: Mr. Swartwood, Mr. Travis, Mr. Blitz, Mr. Campbell, Mr. Green

These five bus drivers transport most high school students. Mr. Travis, Mr. Green, and Mr. Swartwood purchased new buses this year because of a need for more passenger space. Our bus drivers provide us with a fine service.

MR. MARIONI

The custodians care for all necessary maintenance around the high school. They keep our school neat and tidy, and spend many hours keeping the building and grounds attractive.

Mr. John Marioni is head custodian. The others are Mr. William Farr, Mr. and Mrs. George Compton, and Mr. and Mrs. John Opiekum.

The new wing, completed for the September 1962 semester, made a very impressive and welcome sight to the entire student body. It provides added convenience and much needed class-room space, while contributing a pleasant appearance to the school itself.

These students hurry into school before the five minute bell rings. The buses leave the students at the main entrance so the lockers can be reached without delay.

New to the school this year is the Pre-Vocational class. Among the subjects they study are English, Math, Speech, Reading, Social Studies and Science. Mrs. Lutfy teaches these subjects. For home economics, shop and gym the students leave their classroom. The picture below shows the group working in a geography class. Their current projects have included posters on different countries and individual science reports on a variety of topics from dinosaurs to rockets. Weather, the space age, and Mexico are a few of the subjects for second semester.

An Honor Flag

An Honor Flag was suggested.

The purpose for such a flag is that it will be flown out doors beneath the American flag whenever our athletic teams are victorious, or whenever an award is given to the school. The Honor Flag will be a replica of the school flag.

FIGHT SONG

Fight, fight, fight, for Delaware.
Fight them hard, but fight them fair.
Let's go, and never stop
Until we reach the top.
Loyal we will always be
Cheering them to victory,
We're going to win tonight
So fight, fight, fight, fight!
